The Importance of Building Relationships, "Networking"

Networking is very important in any career path you choose. Building relationships with the right people, can often lead you to accomplish your goals sooner than you expect. When building relationships, show that you have knowledge and interest in your career field, along with the ability and willingness to learn from others. Remain open-minded and listen to people who have proven success. Also, be prepared for criticism. Take criticism positively and use it to enhance your craft.

Helpful Tips

Do Your Research

The purpose of a radio station's website is to help answer commonly asked questions. You can usually find answers about the following:

- Events
- Playlists
- Top Songs Played
- Fans favorites
- DJ's contact information
- Contact information for department heads
- Options to submit your music for possible air-play

BE PREPARED

If you decide to contact a radio station by phone or email, be prepared!

*Before contacting any radio station, write down a list of questions you would like to ask.

The Hip-Hop White Pages©

Here are some good questions to ask:

-How can an artist get music played on your station? (If there is not an artist submission page on the radio station's website)

-How can I setup a meeting with the radio station Program Director, etc.?

-What major cities and surrounding areas are in the radio station's coverage area? Do you have a coverage map?

-What time frame has the most listeners? (This will help you purchase ads)

-What types of advertisement do you offer? (radio commercials, website banners, giveaways, etc.)

BE PROFESSIONAL

*The music industry is a business; treat it as such. When contacting the listed stations, be very professional and respectful of the radio representatives and their time.

*Professionalism and consideration can take you a long a way in this business and any other business.

Most Helpful Tip, Never Give Up

We are all born with special gifts and talents. You should work hard every day to perfect your craft. Your destiny depends on your thoughts and work ethic. Thoughts become things. If you train your mind to think in a positive manner, positive things will occur.

Many successful people have failed once or twice in their life. Some were told, "They were not good enough to be successful". Regardless of what others said, they continued to work harder and improved their craft.

Your destiny depends on you so, keep believing and never give up!
